

The dataset consists of electrical motors during the end-of-line quality check with typical defects.

